[iBody Inc.]

iBody Inc. is a start-up company launched from Nagoya University. We have the platform technology (hereinafter "Ecobody-technology") for rapidly discovering monoclonal antibodies, and the technology enables the massive isolation of desired antibodies from tissue samples and small amounts of blood collected from humans and rabbits. Antibodies are highly relevant to pathological conditions of cancer, autoimmune diseases and infectious diseases, etc., and they have been widely applied as medicines and diagnostic agents. Employing Ecobody-technology which has advantage on massiveness and rapidity for antibody discovery, we are developing highly valuable antibody therapeutics for those diseases that have been difficult to find with conventional technologies.
